We are a family looking to get into the goat business of showing milking breeding etc. We are extremely excited about this new adventure and look forward to caring for our goats and ensuring they are well cared for after leaving our farm as well.

In just a brief time I have already spoken to several readers and I'm thoroughly impressed with their attitude and dedication to their animals. We look forward to be just as caring and dedicated to our new herd. We are new to this but expect the challenge and look forward to the rewards it will bring

Do you have any other questions for us you'd like us to note?

We have spoken on the phone and text back and forth a few times.

How do we know where we are on the list and the cost of the kiddos.

How did you hear about us?

Hidden Hills Nigerians popped up on the Internet when I googled Nigerian Dwarf Goats.
